Commodore's Corner — Jeanne Meyer

Jeanne Meyer meyerpalmcoast@cfl.rr.com 386-338-1538

October is my favorite time of the year due to our cool weather. The weather was a perfect day for our golf outing, a very good participation for our social. Thank You Frank Ruffalo and Randy Meyer for making all the arrangements. I would like to thank Michelle Kelly and her volunteers for all the Halloween treats. Make sure everyone check out all the pictures VC Kate posted in newsletter.

This year's Holiday Commodore's Ball is held at the Italian American Club in Palm Coast, Dec 12, 2019. If you have not signed up for this event please do so. The tickets are $65 for members and $80 for guest.

FBYC Social News

On September 28, was the Betty Steflik Hot Dog Lunch. 41 members attended. Everyone enjoyed themselves and I think they had a good time. The members brought great variety of sides and desserts for everyone to share. I want to give a special thank you to Ed Caisse for being our cook. Ed really knows his stuff for grilling and I learned a few new tricks from him. A thank you to Jack Cohen for being available to cook also. I just want to thank everyone for participating from set-up to eating, to clean-up. Thank you all so very much. The only bad thing, I forgot to take pictures- So what happened at Betty's is staying at Betty's.

On Thursday, October 17, 2019 was our General Meeting and Halloween was celebrated. Michelle Kelly was the Lead for this event, and from what I've seen in the pictures and the games that were played, I'm sad I missed the meeting. Michelle told me that members played lots of games and a couple of people were asked to come forward. Lydia Manoni guessed the correct pumpkin candy at 120. Karen Basany guessed the candy corn accurately at 219. Michelle stated the Witch Pitch game ended in a four-way tie with Carol Triano, Liz Caisse, Jack Cohen, and Jeanne Nix. They had a tie breaker playoff and Jack Cohen was the final winner. They had eyeballs flying everywhere!

The desserts brought by the member's looked amazing in the pictures that were sent to me. The creativity was wonderful. I noticed chocolate- I do like my chocolate. Really bummed that Chris and I were away.

Our costume winners: for Best Couple, Michelle and Jim Kelly; Scariest, Marsha Barry; Least Effort, Joe Verille and Amy Beth Krisanda; Funniest, Bill and Susie Moya; and the Most Original, Jeanne and Bill Nix. Congratulations to all of you. Thank you, Michelle, for doing an outstanding job! Michelle would like to mention that one of our members was kind enough to purchase the leftover donuts and she donated them to a nursing home. Thank you.

Our annual FBYC Golf Outing, was held at the Pine Lakes Golf Club, on Wednesday October 23rd. I spoke with Frank Ruffalo, who was a Co-Lead for this event. "This year was an excellent golf outing with seven foursomes teeing off. There was a lot of female participation, with two of the foursomes being all female." He stated at least 50 members enjoyed themselves and everyone had a good time at the Social. Randy Meyer, who was a Co-Lead, gave me the winners of the Golf Outing. The Male Foursome for lowest score was won by Joel Houslander, Bill Bird, Ed Uribe, and Jay Steinmeier. The Ladies Foursome for lowest score was won by Betsy Kelly, Jeanne Meyer, Christine Passiglia, and Eleen Jaap (Guest). The Longest Drive winners were Eleen Jaap and Richard Sirbu. The Closest to the Pin winners were Fred Ciaburri and Eleen Jaap. The Putting Contest was won by Daniel Basany and Nancy Rogers (Guest). Congratulations to all our winners and to everyone for making the 2019 FBYC Golf Outing a huge success!

Maritime Moments

Due to the weather, the Blue Springs River Cruise in Orange City, followed by a social at the Half Wall Beer House in Deland, has been rescheduled for Wednesday, November 6, 2019.

St Johns River Cruise November 6, 2019

Submitted by Jerry Imbriani

The FBYC, on November 6, will be on a two-hour nature cruise, which takes visitors through the awe-inspiring sights and sounds of native wildlife in the rich ecosystem of the St. Johns River basin area. The quiet and smooth operation of their boats allows you to hear the sounds of nature as they surround the trip. With an average cruising speed of 6 mph, nothing passes by too fast. Frequent stops are made for photographs, intimate encounters, and a thorough look at this most fragile ecosystem. During the 2-hour tour our Captain provides interactive narration of local and river history along with illustrated accounts of the numerous bird species, alligators, and other wild critters that call this area home.

St. Augustine November Event
Submitted by Alan Hendry

November 11-14th, St. Augustine Municipal Marina. There has been some discussion about the lack of participation in boating events this year and this is the perfect event for all boats, large and small, to participate. The overnight boats can stay for three nights, day boats can either come for a dock party on the 12th at 12:30pm, or stay at the marina and get a hotel room. The average temperature is a high of 77 and a low of 58, perfect boating weather. If you have not had you boat to an event in a while, this is the time to do it. Due to the late Thanksgiving this year followed by the early December FBYC events; this trip is not during Night of Lights.

Overnight Boats: We had reserved 15 slips for overnight boats at the St. Augustine Municipal Marina. Bring something to share at the Dock Social and BYOB. The cutoff date for signing up was October 17. At that time the unused slips were returned to the marina.

Day Boats: Dock Social November 12th at 12:30 pm (rain date Nov. 13). The marina does welcome day boats but does not take reservations for them. That said, this is mid-week and there should be ample room for all the day boats that attend. The cost is $5 per hour and there is a 4-hour maximum stay which should be more than ample time to allow boaters to enjoy the dock social and return home before dark. We will put out a separate sign-up sheet for day boats. Day boats that do plan to spend the night should use the overnight boat sign-up sheet. Bring a chair (if you want), something to share and BYOB.

Dock Social: If you are not coming boat please join us for a social gathering on the dock on Tuesday November 12 at 12:30. Bring a chair (if you can), something to share and of course BYOB. There will be a separate sign-up sheet for the Dock Social for people not arriving by boat.

Currently, there are four boats staying overnight, two-day boats for arrival on the 12th, four couples staying in a hotel, and five couples traveling by car. There is still time if you wish to participate, whether you come for the day by boat or by car.

Alan Hendry is the lead if you have any questions or would like to sign up call him at 386-246-1736 or email at alan55hendry@gmail.com.

Hotels: For those of you who may be interested in staying overnight in a nearby hotel the two most convenient to the marina are:

Marion Motor Lodge for $137 per night.

Reservations: 904 829-2261

120 Avenida Menendez, St Augustine, Florida - 32084

Free Parking for one car per room

Bayfront Inn is also very close to the marina at $154 per night.

Reservations: 844-223-7405

138 Avenida Menendez, St Augustine, FL 32084

Free Parking for one car per room

Sign-ups Sheets for these events below will be at the November General Meeting.

This is a partial reprint from Boat U.S. Magazine. It is a short refresher on navigation rules.

Marine Navigation Rules

By following three simple rules, and one wise principle, you can spend a lifetime avoiding collisions on the water.

On the water, with no lane markers, stop signs, traffic lights, or crosswalks, you'd think every busy weekend would bring pileups of boating accidents. Why don't they? The answer lies in the Navigation Rules, more properly called the International Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea.

At their core, the Rules are surprisingly simple. Still more surprising is how well they work. We'll focus here on recreational powerboats in clear daylight. Later, we'll look briefly at other kinds of boats and other situations.

The key to the simplicity behind the Rules starts here: There are only three ways boats can collide — overtaking, meeting head-on, and crossing. As long as you know what to do in each scenario — as well as what to do when the other boater doesn't follow the Rules — you can be reasonably assured of avoiding collisions throughout all your time on the water. There's a beautiful quirk in the International Navigation Rules: They avoid the phrase "right of way." Instead, they refer to a "give-way" vessel and to a "stand-on" vessel.

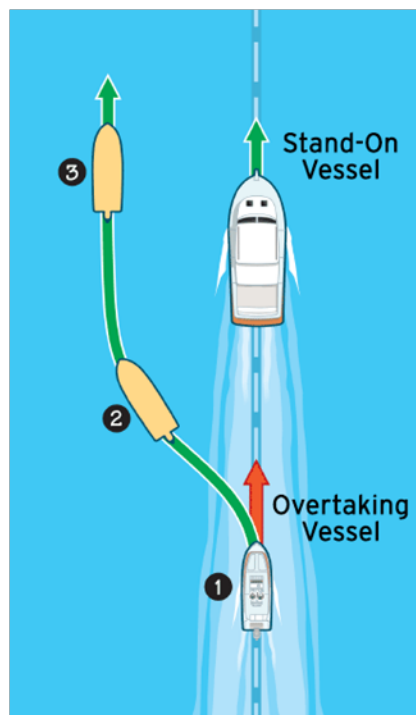

Give-Way Vessel

"Every vessel which is directed to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, so far as possible, take early and substantial action to keep well clear." (Rule 16 — Action by Give-Way Vessel.)

Stand-On Vessel

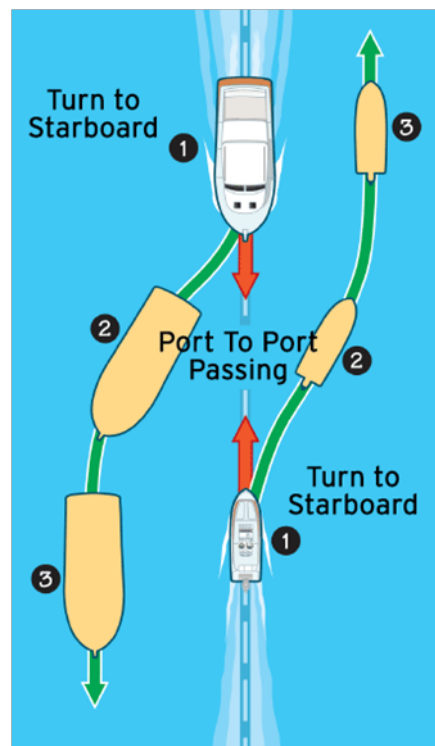

"Where one of two vessels is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course and speed." (Rule 17 — Action by Stand-On Vessel.) This brings up one of the most important principles underpinning the Rules: that it's more important to avoid an accident than it is to follow the Rules. The implication is that no one has the "right" to keep course and speed if doing so will lead to a collision. Rule 17 allows the stand-on vessel to "take action to avoid collision by her maneuver alone" as soon as she recognizes that the other boat isn't following the Rules, and Rule 2 makes every boater responsible for taking any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen or by the special circumstances of the case. (Rule 2 — Responsibility and Rule 17 — Action by Stand-On Vessel.) Let's look at those three scenarios and see what the Rules say about how to avoid collisions.

Overtaking

This one's simple: "Any vessel overtaking any other shall keep out of way of the vessel being overtaken." See Figure 1. So far, so good. But when, exactly, is a vessel overtaking? The Rules are explicit: when she's coming up on another from a direction more than 22.5 degrees abaft her beam. OK, but what if you're not sure about the angle? Again, the Rules answer that one: Assume that you are overtaking. (Rule 13 — Overtaking.)

Head-On Situation

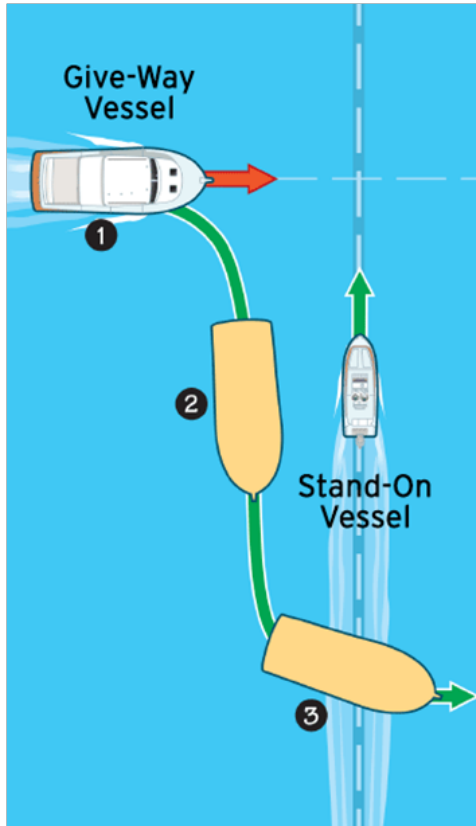

"When two power-driven vessels are meeting on reciprocal or nearly reciprocal courses so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter course to starboard so that each shall pass on the port side of the other." See Figure 2. But what if you're not sure whether your courses are reciprocal? Again, the Rules are ready for that one: Assume that they are, and act accordingly (Rule 14 — Head-On Situation).

These three situations are by and large handled identically whether under Inland or International Rules. See Tip to learn which rules apply to you. But Inland Rule 14 adds a wrinkle for the Great Lakes and certain other inland waters: "A power-driven vessel ... proceeding downbound with a following current shall have the right-of-way over an upbound vessel." Notice that phrase "right-of-way"? This is one of its rare appearances — and it's in the Inland version only, not the International.

Crossing Situation

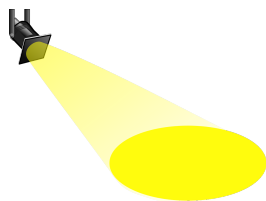

"When two power-driven vessels are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way and shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid crossing ahead of the other vessel."

And that's it. The idea is that if a boat poses a collision risk, it can only be coming from one of three directions: ahead of you, from the side, or from behind. Of course, we've only spoken here about powerboats that can see each other in daylight. Sailboats under power, even if they have sails raised, and personal watercraft follow the same rules as power-driven vessels. Other Rules describe the different responsibilities of sailboats, fishing boats, tugboats, and others, as well as boats operating at nighttime or in fog. (See sidebar.)

What about canoes and kayaks? The Navigation Rules treat them as vessels, but they aren't explicitly included in the hierarchy of stand-on and give-way vessels, nor are they named in the Rules that recommend actions to avoid collision. The U.S. Coast Guard website replies to the question this way: "Ultimately, the issue of who gives way would fall to what would be 'required by the ordinary practice of seamen or by the special circumstances of the case' (Rule 2 — Responsibility)." Common sense says that canoes and kayaks should paddle outside marked navigation channels, cross any channels quickly and at right angles, and keep to the sides of navigable creeks or rivers when other boats are using the deeper channel.

Reading and understanding all 38 of the Navigation Rules should help you avoid any waterborne pileups and other problems. But on a recreational powerboat, with these three simple Rules firmly planted in your mind, you can focus better on what's really important: the indelible fun of being out on the water.

Ray and Nancy Oakes

FBYC SPOTLIGHT, THIS MONTH, IS ON OUR MEMBERS.....

Ray and Nancy were both widowed with children when they met on a computer site. Ray had been married for 36 years, Nancy for 28. They were married in 2007 in Las Vegas with their children present. Ray has 2 children and she has 3, “and more grandchildren than we can count” said Nancy.

They came to Palm Coast, and having timeshare, stayed in what is now the Legacy Club. While here they spent some time looking at homes for sale and found one on a canal they liked and purchased it; that was in 2009. They moved in in 2010.

Ray was born in St. Louis, Missouri. At the age of 15 his family relocated to Kentucky. He joined the Army’s National Guard at 18, “the same week I got my draft notice” he added. He served in the Army for more than 6 years; including more than a year in Vietnam. He has been boating since he was 15. He has owned a number of day sail boats, runabouts, and a 24 ft cabin cruiser. He also owned a canoe that he and a friend built. They covered it with canvas and painted in with Airplane paint. He loved it so much, he said, that he purchased it. It was well used, “until one day it passed (him) on the highway and was destroyed”, he added. (It slid off the car and landed in front of him). Ray and Nancy first had a runabout here; they now have a pontoon boat.

Ray worked for many years for GE as a Facilities Manager. He also was employed as Night School Dean for a Technical School. Ray is a Mechanical Engineer with a degree in Business Management. He taught part time as well - algebra, trigonometry and geometry, and also traveled to Washington, DC to present the needed information for the school to retain accreditation. He introduced AutoCAD into GE; prior to that time everything was hand drawn. In addition, for about 4 years, before retiring, he had a side business; he completed drawings for contractors.

Nancy was born in Philadelphia, Pa. Her first contact with the water was when she lived in So Carolina. She had an uncle who boated in the Chesapeake Bay, and on occasion she joined him. She shared that she had recently been reviewing VCR tapes of her daughter, Kim, who was then 4. The entire area where the movies were taken was destroyed by Hurricane Hugo. She also lived in Kentucky, moving when her first husband, who was in the Air Force, was stationed there.

In high school, Nancy said, she developed an interest in evolution. In college she majored in biological science and math. She obtained a middle school certificate. Her primary goal, she added, “was to teach a child to develop a love of learning”. She proudly discussed her children including her daughter, Kim, who had received a Fulbright Scholarship and recently was the guest speaker for a National Women’s Convention.

How did their membership in the FBYC come about? Ray said he first became aware of the club at the Flagler County Home Show where we had a booth; he expressed an interest in joining. One night they went to the Black Cloud for hamburgers. The bartender asked if they played poker. They joined a Texas Holdem group. There they met a number of our club members. As I have said before, the rest is history! Both have been active members of our club since joining in March of 2012. Ray has arranged for a Treasure Hunt and Steak Bake, in addition to participating in other club activities and has served as a Director for one year and Rear Commodore for three.

Ray and Nancy, thank you for sharing!

Welcome to the FBYC Ship Store

The new car/boat window stickers were a big hit, thank you to all that purchased one or more. We still have plenty in stock and will have them at future meetings if you are interested in purchasing, they are available for the low price of only $3.

Our most popular items with the club burgee are T-Shirts, Hats and Insulated Drink Cups with the burgee engraved. Keep in mind that even though we don't display products at each meeting, we are able to order your FBYC logo item at any time. See Dawn or Doris for ordering.

Also we can offer many different items. We will have the catalog with us at the meetings if you would like to see all the different options. We ask you to be certain of your size and color when making a purchase, as there are no refunds, returns, or exchanges. All orders must be paid for at the time of purchase.

Remember too that you can always bring in your own item for embroidery for the low cost of $9 for the club burgee, $6 for a second line and $3 for a third line of embroidery. And if sparkle is your thing you can have crystals added to your shirt for $10.

Another option is to visit the store where we purchase our items to try on clothing for size or browse other products. Joe knows FBYC and will help you make the best choice for your needs. Visit him at:

BOAT FOR SALE- $10,300

"Tweety" is a 2001 Chaparral Sunesta 232 deckboat. She was repowered in August of 2012 with a NEW Marine Max 5.7L 325hp fuel-injected engine replacing the original 260hp MPI. The new engine (150 hours) coupled to the Alpha drive with SS prop provides 50 mph +/- . I added a second switchable battery, a trickle charge system, and a fresh water flush. Overall condition is above average with new Bimini and full cover in 2017. The speedometer does not work and the stereo/CD player is "iffy". The boat has been lift kept since 2005. NO TRAILER. Bought bigger boat. Make an offer!
