Our general meeting was Thursday, September 19, 2019. It was also Pasta Night. Members came in their team jerseys to kick-off the upcoming football season! Volunteer members were chefs and treated us to samplings of some great pastas. We also enjoyed all the accompaniments to complete the meal. Leads were Carol and Len Caso. Thank you to everyone for making this a successful event. Carol and Len did an excellent job, putting this together and including us to celebrate Len's Birthday!

On Saturday Dec 21st we (FBYC) have 30 tickets “on hold” for the group The Ten Tenors who will be performing here at the Flagler Auditorium.

They are a world-renowned group of mostly Australian entertainers (10), singing a wide range of hits from classical, pop, rock, romantic and holiday favorites. This is a unique and a spectacular show everyone can enjoy. A not to miss event!

This will take place at the Flagler Auditorium on SR 100 and show time is at 7:30 PM.

Ticket cost is $39.60 per person, $79.20 per couple. Checks can be made out to FBYC

Cutoff date for signing up and paying for the tickets will be 30 Oct 2019. The reason for this early cutoff date is the auditorium has the seats on hold for us and if we are not going to use them, we have to release them. Our seats are. all together in one area.

Based on interest, we will schedule a dinner before the show at the Olive Garden on SR 100 or another restaurant of our choosing.

Maritime Moments

As our FBYC maritime year draws to a close I just want to provide you with information on the remainder of the boating activities for the year.

New Smyrna Beach- A quote from the author Robert Burns sums up last weekend. "The schemes of mice and men oft go astray". Due to the predicted path of Dorian and the wind, rain and seas, it was supposed to bring, I made a safety call and cancelled the MDC Eco Tour and the few boats that were coming down were advised to cancel. This was a safety call made on the weather predictions available at the time. All participants were contacted by an Email Blast, by phone, and their monies were returned to them at the September general meeting. If the future Fleet captain would like to attempt to do the tour next year, I'm sure I could make the necessary arrangements.

To the best of my knowledge people still came down and stayed in a hotel and then participated in the Garlic restaurant event in the evening. I have no numbers available at this time on that.

Wednesday, October 9th, is the Blue Springs River Cruise in Orange City and will be followed by a social at the Half Wall Beer House in Deland. Everyone is sure to have a good time!

St. Augustine November Event

Submitted by Alan Hendry

November 11-14th, St. Augustine Municipal Marina. There has been some discussion about the lack of participation in boating events this year and this is the perfect event for all boats, large and small, to participate. The overnight boats can stay for three nights, day boats can either come for a dock party on the 12th at 12:30pm, or stay at the marina and get a hotel room. The average temperature is a high of 77 and a low of 58, perfect boating weather. If you have not had you boat to an event in a while, this is the time to do it. Due to the late Thanksgiving this year followed by the early December FBYC events; this trip is not during Night of Lights.

Fleet Captain - Chris Nelson

nelson551@hotmail.com 386-585-0445

Overnight Boats: We have reserved 15 slips for overnight boats at the St. Augustine Municipal Marina. Bring something to share at the Dock Social and BYOB. The cutoff date for signing up is October 17. At that time the unused slips will be returned to the marina.

Day Boats: Dock Social November 12th at 12:30 pm (rain date Nov. 13). The marina does welcome day boats but does not take reservations for them. That said, this is mid-week and there should be ample room for all the day boats that attend. The cost is $5 per hour and there is a 4-hour maximum stay which should be more than ample time to allow boaters to enjoy the dock social and return home before dark. We will put out a separate sign-up sheet for day boats. Day boats that do plan to spend the night should use the overnight boat sign-up sheet. Bring a chair (if you want), something to share and BYOB.

Dock Social: If you are not coming boat please join us for a social gathering on the dock on Tuesday November 12 at 12:30. Bring a chair (if you can), something to share and of course BYOB. There will be a separate sign-up sheet for the Dock Social for people not arriving by boat.

Please sign up on just one of the three sign-up sheets!

Hotels: For those of you interested in staying overnight in a nearby hotel the two most convenient to the marina are:

Marion Motor Lodge for $137 per night.
Reservations: 904 829-2261
120 Avenida Menendez, St Augustine, Florida - 32084
Free Parking for one car per room

Bayfront Inn is also very close to the marina at $154 per night.
Reservations: 844-223-7405
138 Avenida Menendez, St Augustine, FL 32084
Free Parking for one car per room

Your Essential First-Aid Kit

No matter the type of boating you do, there are certain medical supplies every boater should have on board. Whether setting out for a day, week, or longer, you need a well-stocked first-aid kit on board. Here are the essentials.

Checking life jackets, VHF radio, and flares before setting out for a day on the water should be a standard part of your predeparture checklist. But your first-aid kit is likely stowed and forgotten — as it seems you rarely need it. If setting out for just a few hours, most boaters assume they're unlikely to suffer a medical emergency. Or they reason that they're not going far and can quickly get back to the dock, so why worry? But having basic supplies at the ready could save you a trip to the emergency room — or even a life.

We talked to Anne Marie Lennon, M.D., Ph.D., of The Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland, who sails an Ericson 33, about which first aid essentials every boater should have on board.

"Of course, don't be slow to call for help if the situation demands it or the nature of the emergency is outside of your capabilities," she cautions. "But an onboard first-aid kit should be your first line of defense. A good starting point is to purchase one of the larger kits available from a retailer like West Marine, to which I add a few extra items such as hand disinfectant, antacids, motion-sickness medication, and jellyfish anti-sting." You may want to add additional items based on your personal preferences, where you boat, and the needs of the crew.

Consider attending a first-aid course. The American Red Cross offers both online and in-person classes at a moderate cost. Visit redcross.org/take-a-class.

Essential Items For Your First-Aid Kit

Scissors — to cut bandages, surgical tape, and clothing away from a wound if removing the garment is impossible

Safety Pins — to hold bandages or slings in place

Tweezers — to remove ticks, splinters, and other small foreign bodies embedded in the skin

Syringe (without needle) — to fill with saline and flush dirt from a wound, or as an emergency eye-wash pump

Saline Solution — to flush wounds prior to applying bandages

Fabric Tape — to hold dressings and bandages in place

Elastic Bandages — provide both covering and support to injuries

Triangular Bandage — to support and immobilize a damaged arm or shoulder

Large Adhesive Pads — to cover larger cuts and wounds

Instant Cold Pack — temporary relief from minor burns and swelling from sprains and strains

Foil Space Blanket — reduces shock by retaining body heat

Disposable Gloves — to wear during contact with bodily fluids — yours or anyone else's. some people are allergic to latex, so stock nitrile gloves

Sterile Absorbent Pads — to cover wounds and abrasions

Rolled Gauze — to cover wounds where an adhesive bandage is too small or extra absorbency is required

Adhesive Bandages — keep a selection from small to large. include round ones, and butterfly bandages to effectively close a deeper cut

Burn Cream — treats sunburn or galley burns. Note: treat a significant burn as a medical emergency

Individually Wrapped Common Medications — for treating stings, heartburn, seasickness, diarrhea, and so on

Alcohol Wipes — to sterilize hands, clean scissors and tweezers before/after use, or to gently clean a wound

Storage Container — keeps everything organized and easily accessible

First-Aid Guide — essential reference. read it before you need to use your first-aid kit

Aspirin — if you suspect a heart attack

Ibuprofen — general pain reliever

Acetaminophen — general pain reliever for those who can't take aspirin or ibuprofen

Cotton Swabs — to clean delicate areas before applying a dressing

Sam Splint — to immobilize a suspected fractured limb

Antiseptic Ointment or Spray — apply to minor scrapes and abrasions to prevent infection

Eye Wash — for flushing chemicals, fuel, dirt, and grit out of the eye. can offer relief in cases of severe pollen allergies

Cleaning Cuts with Hydrogen Peroxide

For most minor cuts and scrapes, rinsing thoroughly with plenty of clean water, removing foreign bodies, and cleaning the surrounding area with soap is effective in preventing infection. It's also less irritating to wounded tissue. Once a first-line treatment, hydrogen peroxide is useful when you don't have access to clean water, but it is not recommended for deep cuts, bites, or burns. See a doctor immediately for those.

Tips For A Safe & Healthy Time On The Water (Mark Corke)

1. When you think of first aid, cuts and bruises probably come to mind. But sunburn, heat-stroke, and overexposure to the elements can pose serious health risks.

Dr. Anne Marie Lennon of The John's Hopkins Hospital says, "Overexposure to the sun puts you at real risk of skin cancer. Avoid sun damage by using the 'slip, slap, slop' approach. Slip on a long-sleeved top, slap a hat on your head, and slop on some sunscreen, which you reapply every couple of hours."

2. Before heading out, ask if any crew members have allergies to medications, including simple pain relievers. Some people may be allergic to the adhesive on bandages or the latex in gloves, or may have been told to avoid certain pain relievers for medical reasons. If someone on board has a life-threatening allergy, know where to locate and how to administer an epinephrine auto-injector (EpiPen), if required.

3. Make sure that more than one person knows how to operate the VHF radio to call for help in an emergency.

TIM RIPPEY AND BETSY KELLEY

FBYC SPOTLIGHT, THIS MONTH, IS ON OUR MEMBERS.....

Tim has lived in Palm Coast since the 1980's. He was here for ITT's beginning development of Palm Coast, and was, said Betsy, "the last man standing when ITT left". Tim was born in Daytona but raised in Connecticut. He began singing at the age of 8. He played with several bands one being Nemesis. He was their lead singer and traveled through the Northeast. At one time during his career he competed against the group - Chicago. When Tim's father became ill he returned to Florida to be with him and began his tenure with ITT. Here in Palm Coast he sang at the Buddy Taylor Memorial. He began his "one man" show here and now he and Betsy travel throughout the Southeast for his "shows". Betsy added that he will play and sing whatever kind of music people want. Also, that he chose to work independently rather than a career on Broadway as he likes the individual contact. During the day Tim runs a major construction business.

Betsy was born in Colorado, raised in the Northeast, and, she said, has lived all over the US. She has been in the plant business for many years. She has been an account manager for Home Depot, in the citrus and fruiting tree division, for 25 years. She also started a major citrus company and sells to independent nurseries. She has the latest information on the treatment of citrus greening which I know she will share with anyone who would like the information. Prior to her involvement with the plant industry she worked for the PGA tour and also played golf every day.

Tim and Betsy met in the 1990's. They were introduced by mutual friends. Between them they have 4 children, all of whom have successful careers, and four grandchildren. Betsy proudly said their children's careers include teaching and running their own companies. One is in the financial business, another owns and manages golf courses around the country, and a daughter runs the special needs programs in NYC. Tim and Betsy live in Burnell. They own and live in one of the original homes (over 100 years old) in Flagler County. The home was once owned by the Cody family - for whom Cody's Corner was named. They own three boats - two sailboats and an old navy admiral that they have restored into a trawler. Betsy said that unfortunately they have little time to boat as a result of their busy careers. They do occasionally take day trips for R&R.
