Please Read This Concerning The November General Meeting, Date and Time Change

November General Meeting: SATURDAY November 21, Social and pizza at 3:00 PM, meeting at 4:00.

This is our most important meeting each year. It is our election meeting which, per the bylaws, requires a 25% member quorum. The meeting will be at Betty Steflik Pavilion which closes at sunset. As a result we needed to change the time to 3:00 PM. We also changed the date to allow our working members to attend. The club is providing pizza which will be done in a Covid friendly way. There will be masked and gloved members serving.

So we know how much pizza we need, please let me know if you are planning to attend the November meeting at 386-246-1736 or send an email to alan55hendry@gmail.com.

As we have been doing for several months at our meetings, please wear a mask anytime you are not seated. Please sit two couples per table with each couple taking one end of the table opposite each other.

At the October meeting there were no nominations from the floor so the candidates nominated by the Election Committee will all be unopposed.

Nominees:

Commodore – Joel Houslander

Vice Commodore – Richard Sirbu

Rear Commodore – Jim Kelly

Fleet Captain – Amy Krisanda

Secretary – Jeannie Nix

Treasurer – Doris Houslander

Past Commodore, Director – Alan Hendry

Director – Jerry Imbriani

Election Committee Membership:

Len Dignard, Election Committee Chair

Michelle Kelly, Election Committee Member

Russ Jones, Election Committee Member

Dale Anderson, Election Committee Member

Fleet Captain Amy will cover our most recent three day Maritime event in St. Augustine but I really wanted to cover one thing myself. Over the course of the weekend we were treated to a fishing event with one participant. 16 year old Maria Kelly was fishing off the dock. First she would cast net to catch her own bait and then fish for hours. She did have some real success and here is a picture of her and her best catch. She was using light tackle and the big one broke the rod into three pieces, but she landed the fish.

The advertisement is split into two main sections. On the left, there is a portrait of Danielle Pierro, a woman with long brown hair wearing a dark blue button-down shirt. To her left is a circular logo for 'TRADEMARK Realty Group' featuring a palm tree and a smiley face. Below the logo, her contact information is listed: CELL: 914.760.0364, EMAIL: daniellepierro@gmail.com, and 101 Palm Harbor Pkwy Unit B-120 Palm Coast, FL 32137. To the right of her portrait, the text reads 'Danielle Pierro TOP PRODUCER' with a small icon of a house and a dollar sign. On the right side of the ad, there is a scenic image of a beach with two lounge chairs under a thatched umbrella. Above this image, the text says 'FLAGLER COUNTY THE HIDDEN GEM' and '“I don't just sell Real Estate I sell PARADISE”'. At the bottom of this section, her name 'Danielle Pierro' is written in a script font.

FBYC Social News

This year's FBYC Golf outing was on October 21st at the Pine Lakes Golf Course. There were a total of 6 teams that hit the fairways. The First place winners were Karen and Richard Sirbu and Karen and Rick Lord with a score of 3 under. In second place was Jim Kelly, Joe Verille and Joel Houslander.

Joel also won the Longest Men's Drive and Closest to the Pin. Betsy Kelly hit the longest women's drive and Trish got the women's closest to the pin. After golf fun, drinks and food were had by all at the Pub and Grill Room in the clubhouse and on the patio outside. There was a fifty/fifty raffle won by Mary Ann Simard. Janet Hendry won the Golf Bag Wine Caddy, Amy Krisanda and Joe Verille won FBYC hats. There were several other winners.

Special thanks goes to Randy Meyer and Kathy Imbriani for organizing the event. Thanks to Amy for driving the cocktail cart. Unfortunately we got lost on the back nine when everyone else was on the front nine (lol, Go Figure!) Thanks Doris for coordinating the raffle and 50/50 and Amy who donated the leather golf bag wine caddy. Most of all thanks to all the members and friends for making this event a success. Be sure to visit the FBYC Facebook site to see a lot more pictures.

I would like to welcome our newest FBYC members - Linda and Charles Folsom, they will receive their burgee and name badges at our November meeting.

We have many new potential members interested in joining our club.

The FBYC Brochure that Alan and I distributed continues to help our recruiting efforts and also positively promotes FBYC around Flagler county. If you have friends that are interested in the club, we have brochures and membership applications available to hand out.

To keep up to date with all our activities you can visit our (<http://flaglerbeachyachtclub.com/>) FBYC calendar of events where we have our Meetings, Socials and Maritime posted. I also have updated the members/boat list.

Members can also join our Flagler Beach Yacht Club Facebook page and post photos of FBYC activities.

Send me an email to join the group and I will get you in.

Happy Thanksgiving,

Rear Commodore – Joel Houslander

Maritime Moments

On October 23-25th 2020 FBYC visited St Augustine Municipal Marina for a Maritime Event. We had a small gathering on the dock on Saturday with about 20 people attending. This was a special event, six prospective new members spent the weekend. They experienced FBYC's friendliness and love for boating. We thank Denise and Matt Wheaton for inviting three couples with beautiful vessels to join our event. Denise has been promoting our club and she and Matt are doing a great job. Thank you to Jim Kelly who was our lead for this event, keep up the good work!

November Event:

St Augustine Lighthouse - FBYC will be visiting the Lighthouse on Thursday November 12th 2020 - 11:00am to approximately 1:00pm

Then a Social from 1:00 pm -3:00pm at the Conch House Restaurant

Fleet Captain - Amy Krisanda

Maritime Tips

This is a partial reprint from Boat U.S. Magazine. It is a short refresher on navigation rules.

Marine Navigation Rules

By following three simple rules, and one wise principle, you can spend a lifetime avoiding collisions on the water.

On the water, with no lane markers, stop signs, traffic lights, or crosswalks, you'd think every busy weekend would bring pileups of boating accidents. Why don't they? The answer lies in the Navigation Rules, more properly called the International Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea.

At their core, the Rules are surprisingly simple. Still more surprising is how well they work. We'll focus here on recreational powerboats in clear daylight. Later, we'll look briefly at other kinds of boats and other situations.

The key to the simplicity behind the Rules starts here: There are only three ways boats can collide — overtaking, meeting head-on, and crossing. As long as you know what to do in each scenario — as well as what to do when the other boater doesn't follow the Rules — you can be reasonably assured of avoiding collisions throughout all your time on the water. There's a beautiful quirk in the International Navigation Rules: They avoid the phrase "right of way." Instead, they refer to a "give-way" vessel and to a "stand-on" vessel.

Give-Way Vessel

"Every vessel which is directed to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, so far as possible, take early and substantial action to keep well clear." (Rule 16 — Action by Give-Way Vessel.)

Stand-On Vessel

"Where one of two vessels is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course and speed." (Rule 17 — Action by Stand-On Vessel.) This brings up one of the most important principles underpinning the Rules: that it's more important to avoid an accident than it is to follow the Rules. The implication is that no one has the "right" to keep course and speed if doing so will lead to a collision. Rule 17 allows the stand-on vessel to "take action to avoid collision by her maneuver alone" as soon as she recognizes that the other boat isn't following the Rules, and Rule 2 makes every boater responsible for taking any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen or by the special circumstances of the case.

Fleet Captain - Amy Krisanda

stageyourboatforsale@aol.com 914-755-5612

(Rule 2 — Responsibility and Rule 17 — Action by Stand-On Vessel.) Let's look at those three scenarios and see what the Rules say about how to avoid collisions.

Overtaking

This one's simple: "Any vessel overtaking any other shall keep out of way of the vessel being overtaken." See Figure 1. So far, so good. But when, exactly, is a vessel overtaking? The Rules are explicit: when she's coming up on another from a direction more than 22.5 degrees abaft her beam. OK, but what if you're not sure about the angle? Again, the Rules answer that one: Assume that you are overtaking. (Rule 13 — Overtaking.)

Head-On Situation

"When two power-driven vessels are meeting on reciprocal or nearly reciprocal courses so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter course to starboard so that each shall pass on the port side of the other." See Figure 2. But what if you're not sure whether your courses are reciprocal? Again, the Rules are ready for that one: Assume that they are, and act accordingly (Rule 14 — Head-On Situation).

These three situations are by and large handled identically whether under Inland or International Rules. See Tip to learn which rules apply to you. But Inland Rule 14 adds a wrinkle for the Great Lakes and certain other inland waters: "A power-driven vessel ... proceeding downbound with a following current shall have the right-of-way over an upbound vessel." Notice that phrase "right-of-way"? This is one of its rare appearances — and it's in the Inland version only, not the International.

Fleet Captain - Amy Krisanda

stageyourboatforsale@aol.com 914-755-5612

"When two power-driven vessels are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way and shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid crossing ahead of the other vessel."

And that's it. The idea is that if a boat poses a collision risk, it can only be coming from one of three directions: ahead of you, from the side, or from behind. Of course, we've only spoken here about powerboats that can see each other in daylight. Sailboats under power, even if they have sails raised, and personal watercraft follow the same rules as power-driven vessels. Other Rules describe the different responsibilities of sailboats, fishing boats, tugboats, and others, as well as boats operating at nighttime or in fog. (See sidebar.)

What about canoes and kayaks? The Navigation Rules treat them as vessels, but they aren't explicitly included in the hierarchy of stand-on and give-way vessels, nor are they named in the Rules that recommend actions to avoid collision. The U.S. Coast Guard website replies to the question this way: "Ultimately, the issue of who gives way would fall to what would be 'required by the ordinary practice of seamen or by the special circumstances of the case' (Rule 2 — Responsibility)." Common sense says that canoes and kayaks should paddle outside marked navigation channels, cross any channels quickly and at right angles, and keep to the sides of navigable creeks or rivers when other boats are using the deeper channel.

Reading and understanding all 38 of the Navigation Rules should help you avoid any waterborne pileups and other problems. But on a recreational powerboat, with these three simple Rules firmly planted in your mind, you can focus better on what's really important: the indelible fun of being out on the water.

FBYC SHIP'S STORE

Welcome to the FBYC Ship Store

The last meeting of the year is this November. If the weather looks good we will have a table set up for the Ship Store. You are welcome to purchase items from our inventory or place an order for merchandise. We will have the catalog with us at the meetings if you would like to see all the different options.

We ask you to be certain of your size and color when making a purchase, as there are no refunds, returns, or exchanges. All orders must be paid for at the time of purchase.

See Marsha Barry or Doris Houslander for more information.

Remember too that you can always bring in your own item for embroidery for the low cost of $10 for the club burgee, $6 for a second line and $3 for a third line of embroidery. And if sparkle is your thing you can have crystals added to your shirt for $10.

Another option is to visit the store where we purchase our items to try on clothing for size or browse other products. Joe knows FBYC and will help you make the best choice for your needs. Visit him at:
